Thredbo Diggings Trails

The mountain bike trails at Thredbo Diggings are a mix of old service roads and walking trails that have been modified and improved to create new mountain bike and shared use trails. These trails offer flowing lines over undulating terrain, with open corners and limited climbs or descents. Access to the trails is easiest from either Thredbo Diggings Camp ground or Skitube car parks, but can also be accessed from Lake Crackenback Resort, via the Bullocks Hut track.

Easiest Trails

The Bullocks Hut track forms a link between the Thredbo Valley Trails and Lake Crackenback Resort. It is a shared use trail built for all abilities and therefore makes the easiest trail to ride.

More Difficult Trails

These trails offer the most variety and challenge in this network. The Thredbo Valley Trail (TVT) is a shared trail that is smooth and fast to ride, so be aware of other users on the trail. The Muzzlewood Track is a combination of old service roads and purpose built single trail. It is more challenging in parts than the TVT, but still flows nicely with only a few tighter corners and short climbs.
